Saturn Babe is a graphic novel based on an adventure in space, a science fiction story that mixes action, emotion and humour.

Jack is a space adventurer who travels from one end of the galaxy to the other having adventures, on board an intelligent spaceship with its own personality, plus the own one in the galaxy that can talk and has its own opinions.

The story begins when Jack and his crew are on their way to Schyze to buy one of the parcels of land belonging to that planet, being sold by the Trade Federation on the planet Turh. In the style of a Western, the colonists hold a race to see who can get the best land on the satellite. But Jack has heard a rumour that the richest gold field in the galaxy is on that uninhabited planet.
