Humorous book for adults. The main character (Cobre) is a young man who has a single motto in life: have a good time. With the aim of opening a restaurant, he moves to a busy tourist area on the Costa Brava and soon gets to know the people there – summer residents, expats – and almost by accident, becomes a drugs mule. The book explains the experiences of this 'perfect gentleman' during three years and his relationships with the opposite sex, until, after an incredible event, his innumerable faults become apparent.
