Monica is 17 years-old and is just about to finish school. She has summer ahead of her and she is not sure what to do with the rest of her life. Monica has three hobbies: music, books and burning the photos that she takes of lovers in the park outside her house.

Roger is 38 and works as manager of a rock band. He's from a good family and loves the nightlife that is part of his job. Due to the crisis in the music industry, Roger is not enjoying his most successful professional moment, but he tries not to think about it too much.

One day, an unusual event brings them together: Monica writes a critical review on her blog about the fashionable band that Roger represents. They meet, and the inevitable happens: they fall madly in love. But there is one thing that stands in their way: their age. The 21 years that separate them is, for many, an insurmountable obstacle. Vibrant, seductive, funny and sensitive, "Només tu" is a novel that takes readers back to the magical sensations aroused by their first love: a captivating book that makes you dream from the first page.
