"El raïm inquiet" (La uva inquieta/the restless grape) tells the story of an lively, impatient bunch of grapes that really, really wants to become wine. On this intense journey, during which our bunch of grapes will experience several transformations, readers will learn about the process of making the must and the wine as they follow the protagonist's adventures. The story also includes a few curiosities and vocabulary related to the grape harvest, as well as sayings, proverbs and tongue-twisters about the traditional process.
