A young Galician schoolteacher has just split up from her partner. To make a break with the past, she decides to spend her holidays on the Canary Islands, where she devours Fifty Shades of Grey and meets a rich, attractive Russian businessman with whom she has a passionate liaison, so becoming the heroine of her own fantasy. A story of desire and passion, dedicated to all those readers who believe these things only happen in novels. When the plane takes off for her long awaited holiday on the Canary Islands, Cristina is only thinking about forgetting her broken marriage. Her plan is to enjoy the sunshine, relax and read marvellous romantic novels, her favourite genre. The last thing Cristina expects is exactly what happens: she meets Misha, an attractive, virile, amazingly sexy Russian millionaire and he notices her.
