Read report: Cómo tener ideas [3]

"Once upon a time there was a writer who didn't know what to write. She had everything she needed to do it: a computer, a functioning plug socket, some comfy slippers and a decent amount of time. But none of the ideas that occurred to her seemed interesting enough." And so begins Sofía Rhei's mad and highly amusing story, full of surprises and unexpected characters, who are brought to life by Marc Gras Cots' ingenious illustrations.
