Felipe has a cold and he can't stop sneezing, but he doesn't want the medicine that will make him better. The remedies his friends come up with are a bit crazy, and don't seem to cure him at all. Poor Felipe, he just can't get rid of his cold! In this story Felipe is ill but instead of listening to his Granny he follows his friends' advice, and it becomes clear that sometimes the voice of experience has much more to teach us.
