The newest addition to the successful child collection, Superquestions, which has sold 100,000 copies in Spain. We all tremble when a superquestioner looks us in the eyes and opens its mouth to ask... Is there such a thing as infinite drawings? Can you measure happiness? What comes out when you cut a sausage? Why do we count in tens? What can we do with 4 quarters? How many packets of A4 paper would you need to wrap a football pitch? What use are statistics? How many different ways can three friends sit in the cinema?
