Dreams is a simple, sweet and delicate book about those first longings children have, at an early age: to sail blue seas, to run free in green mountains, to dance for no other reason than to follow the rhythm of life that pulsates in them. It is a book in which to enjoy the beautiful illustrations, to savour every word, to reward yourself with a wonderful moment spent with your children and creating memories, memories of sunny days, red flowers, freshly washed clothes. The simplicity of its text and the innocence of its illustrations make it ideal to read with the smallest members of the family. A perfect book to read as a family and to enjoy with children. To look at the world with a child's eyes once more, and to discover the magic of small things.
