We have all the necessary ingredients for a great story: a princess (Talía), a castle, three fairies (Leonarda, Rafaela and Angelines), an evil, really evil, witch, a curse and even a prince (or several - who knows?!...). It's just that Lola Moral and Sergio García begin this version of the classic Sleeping Beauty in a very strange way: 'I'm sick and tired of everyone telling the story of my life, so tired I could sleep for another hundred years, if it weren't for the fact that I want to write this book first in order to clear up a few key points and, if possible, earn some author's royalties from it.'
