Vega has heard a story about a little bird who treated his partner badly. Do you want to find out what happened? Do you know why there are little birds that behave like that? Do you want to know what the little bird did? Gender violence is a serious social problem that transcends all geographical, social and temporal borders. There are many manifestations of gender-based violence. One of them, which this Senticuento imprint deals with, is violence by a man against a woman when they are in a relationship. It is essential to ensure that children are treated well in order to ensure their healthy development. Idi Amin Dada, the butcher of Uganda, Nasser, Muamar el Gadafi, Erwin Rommel, Samuel Doe, president of Liberia, even Ernesto Che Guevara... Names that have shaped the recent history of the African continent through war and genocide. The Brief History of Wars in Africa takes us through the different military conflicts that the African continent has faced.
