Written by a specialist in child psychology, this book is aimed at boys and girls aged from 4 to 8 years old. Ani is an eco-friend with a mission: to make sure humans care for and respect animals and plants. Do you think he will succeed? Do you want to help him? Surely together you can make it happen! Humans are animals with the capacity to laugh, cry, imagine, feel and develop nostalgia. But at the end of the day we are still animals with instincts, fears and territorial, tribal behaviours. It therefore makes sense that we should respect all other animals. This story encourages children to care for animals and nature. Using clear, simple and fun language, it contains elements that help us understand the difficult situation the main characters (the eco-friends and Captain Urra) are going through.
