Taking care of the planet is important. This is a book to help kids learn about the importance of looking after our forests and keeping them clean. Gala and her granny have great fun exploring the forest. Together they discover a cave where a family of bears live, they talk to the rabbits and their babies, and find the wisest of all trees. However, as time passes, the forest becomes polluted and tragedy threatens... Fire! Granny explains that this is all because of deforestation and her granddaughter who is both sad and furious decides she won't give up. She comes up with a brilliant idea about how to bring back life and colour to the forest.
