A gusty wind, a cat and a rabbit. A King who becomes a Gink. A snail that says hello. A whale who travels in a foam chariot. Birds who escape from their cage. A little girl who speaks with the wind. A father who returns happy from his travels with a story for his daughter: the words the wind blew away. Early contact with words: morphology, syllables, meaning, variations... The importance of language in the construction of reality. The ability for creativity associated with speech. Imagination as the forge of language. An invitation to delight in, listen to and embrace words, to learn about and interact with literature and poetry.
