Season: SPRING 2011

The Tower is the largest building in the village, an inhuman block inhabited by as many people as live in the rows of houses that have just been built on the outskirts. People are installed in shelves in the air, like books, each one with their own story, some good and others bad, some about to open up and others to be closed. In the Tower live Ángel and Gil, Nor and Berta, Rashid and Stéfano. Each one has their own room in the Tower, and speaks with their own accent, but they are forced to understand each other when they discover they all belong to the same story.
