As the battle between Heaven and Hell reaches its climax, three young people live their lives in ignorance of their true destiny as chosen ones. Tanya competes in a talent contest to demonstrate that there is a higher than average IQ behind her Lolita look. Erik acts as a double in the most dangerous scenes in an action film. And Mauro survives as a misfit. A mysterious young woman will appear to warn them that they are in danger, and soon Tanya, Erik and Mauro will witness how the clash between Light and Darkness begins to claim its victims in a terrible manner...

'Heralds of the Light' is a book full of action and adventures in which some rather unusual young people find themselves caught up in the middle of the eternal struggle between Heaven and Hell. A spectacular reworking of the mythology surrounding angels and demons.
