Social networks have become a mass phenomenon in recent years. Their success is blinding and the number of users continues to climb.

Facebook is undoubtedly the most popular of them all, with nearly 640 million members.

It combines all the most popular tools on one site: forums, chat, messaging, blogs... in a friendly and easy to use environment.

This book will teach you, step by step in an agreeable and accesible way, how to make best use of it. In minutes you will be able to start enjoying the experience.

You can find your friends, old student mates, share favourites, interests, activities and concerns and get in touch with people around you. Publicising your photos, videos or work are just some of the possibilities on offer.
