

Dones del cielo. Abeja y miel en el Mediterráneo antiguo

Gifts from God: The Bee and Honey in the Ancient Mediterranean

Author: Pilar Fernández Uriel [1]

Publisher: UNIVERSIDAD NACIONAL DE EDUCACIÓN A DISTANCIA [2]

Language: Spanish

Year of Publication: 2011

Pages: 180

Number of editions: 1

Spanish Retail price: 16.96€

ISBN: ISBN 978-84-362-6159-2

Genre: Social Science and religion

SPRING

2012

Season: SPRING 2012

This book offers a vision of the bee and its products from their economic, social, symbolic, religious and cultural perspectives in the cultures of the ancient Mediterranean, in chronological order starting in Prehistory and continuing to Late Antiquity, in an analysis supported by a great number of references drawn from literature, epigraphs, numismatics, archaeology and iconography. The work is divided into four sections on the bee, honey, apiculture as a task, a profession and a technology of Antiquity, based on the descriptions of classical authors and the archaeological register. Finally, there is an analysis of different iconographical representations of the bee derived from a variety of environments and cultures and demonstrating the reach and meaning of this insect in the Mediterranean.

Publishing rights available from Company: Univ. Nacional de Educación Distancia (UNED)

CIF: Q2818016D

Address: C/ Bravo Murillo, 38. 3o PI 28015 Madrid

Contact: Yolanda Lázaro Ayllón

Phone: 91 398 85 28

E-mail: ylazaro@pas.uned.es [3]

Website: <http://www.uned.es/publicaciones> [4]

Source URL: <http://217.160.225.169/node/8226>

Links:

[1] <http://217.160.225.169/node/5593>

[2] <http://217.160.225.169/node/12936>

[3] <mailto:ylazaro@pas.uned.es>

[4] <http://www.uned.es/publicaciones>