What is the difference between a woman in the twenty first century and in previous epochs? Does gender equality mean she has to renounce her different point of view and her values? Postmodernity offers a new integrating paradigm which overcomes the dualist vision of opposition and suggests kinder, less aggressive ways of living. Nowadays feminine energy is becoming more prominent. A new cosmic consciousness has been born that supports values such as unconditional love, sensitivity, intuition, solidarity, the spirit of cooperation, acceptance, care for life, empathy, the vocation to serve others and fluidity of communication. A process of millennia has led women to recognize their true identity, speak in their own voice and take the role of protagonist, playing her part in our society now and in the future.
